

ASCIA 2024 CONFERENCE CFAR HOT PUBLICATIONS – CALL FOR ABSTRACT SUBMISSIONS

Calling all CFAR Masters, PhD and EMCR members! It's time to submit your Hot Pubs abstracts for the 2024 ASCIA-CFAR Symposium Day on Wednesday 4 September.

Successful applicants will receive a CFAR3 Travel Grant to present their work at the ASCIA CFAR Hot Publications session chaired by CFAR3 Chief Investigator Professor Andreas Lopata and CFAR3 Associate Investigator Dr Vicki McWilliam.

CFAR Hot Pubs must align with the CFAR3 mission and include at least one CFAR3 Chief or Associate Investigator as a co-author.

CFAR is proud to support emerging food allergy experts and will award CFAR3 2024 Round 2 Travel Grants to successful applicants, covering:

- Your flights (Red-E deal or equivalent)
- 1 night accommodation and meals up to $A310.70 (as per ATO 'Reasonable expenses' rates)
- Early bird registration for the ASCIA Conference CFAR Symposium Day in person ($A280-380) or virtual attendance ($A220-250)

To enter, complete this form and email it to cre.cfar@mcri.edu.au by 5pm Monday 24 June.

Title:
Name:
Primary affiliation:
Abstract:

Authors:
Manuscript status* (please select one)	Submitted <input type="checkbox"/> Under review <input type="checkbox"/> Accepted, in press <input type="checkbox"/> Published <input type="checkbox"/>
Citation information* (as applicable)	Journal: Date accepted/submitted:
CFAR membership (please select one)	Masters' student <input type="checkbox"/> PhD student <input type="checkbox"/> EMCR member <input type="checkbox"/>

Manuscript status and citation information will be confirmed for selected speakers in late July.*

Successful applicants will be advised by Friday 28 June in order to register prior to the ASCIA Conference early bird deadline of 3 July. Further information will also be provided at this stage regarding reimbursement process for covered travel costs.

If you have any questions, please email the CFAR Management Office at: cre.cfar@mcri.edu.au.

We look forward to receiving your application!